

Marketing-Services

Sprengel & Partner's extensive portfolio of services in the field of marketing provides businesses with support to ensure that their specifications in terms of product, price, communications and supply policies are implemented, by means specific measures, and that the goals they have set are reached. The services provided encompass the complete marketing mix, including direct and Internet marketing, sales support, leads generation and also special services such as market analysis, translations, HR services, business development, web development etc.

